What is a solicitation document

A solicitation document is a document used to request potential vendors to offer a quote, bid, or proposal to acquire goods, supplies, and services.

Why is a solicitation document important

- Creates a “level playing field” – all potential vendors receive the same information at the same time. In short promotes full and open competition.
- Allows potential vendors to prepare offers
- Identifies measurable criteria that will allow potential vendors to receive the contract award
- Clearly expresses procedures, terms and conditions so the outcome is in the best interest of the School Food Authority (SFA)
- The SFA receives a sufficient number of responsive offers.

USDA Local Procurement Tool

State agency provides SFA Procurement Chart to SFA's selected for review; SFA completes an analysis and returns chart to SA.

Using the SFA Procurement Chart, the SA identifies the number/types of procurement contracts the SFA has and applies the Contract Selection Chart to select the sample of SFA formal, informal, group purchasing organization, processing, sole source and emergency contracts it will review & identify all FSMC contracts.

The SA answers yes/no/not applicable questions in the SA Procurement Review Workbook & examines documentation to review the following areas in the selected contracts:

- Written Code of Standards
- Contract Solicitation
- Contract Evaluation and Award
- Contract Performance Management Process

Findings identified during the State agency Procurement Review should be transferred to the Summary of Findings tab; the State agency is responsible for developing associated corrective actions for any SFA procurement findings.
