Update on Shared Efficiency Study

Division Administrator, Kevin Fangman, reported the findings of the shared efficiency study required by Senate File 447, passed in 2007 by the Iowa General Assembly. This study was to provide findings and recommendations about potential sharing and efficiency efforts among school districts, area education agencies, community colleges, other postsecondary institutions, and governmental subdivisions.

A series of regional discussions were facilitated through area education agencies (AEAs) and various educational personnel and county and municipal government officials were invited to participate. Kevin Fangman said various efficiency proposals in the following areas were examined:

- Operational efficiencies
- Shared programming
- Transportation sharing
- Expansion of area education agency cooperatives
- Common schedules for school districts and community colleges
- Energy and insurance efficiencies
- Effective structure and delivery models that promote optimum student achievement
- Graduation requirements
- A rigorous, relevant curriculum

Fangman reported on the findings, barriers and Department recommendations as a result of this study. Brian Gentry asked what the next step would be following the release of this study. It was suggested that this would be a good discussion topic to be included on the Board retreat agenda.

Director Jeffrey said that additional data was also needed to complete and document the shared efficiency findings.
