Background: Charter school legislation was passed in Iowa during the 2003 session. It allowed for ten charter schools in Iowa. The 2006 General Assembly lifted the charter school cap to 20; however, no additional funding was allocated. At this time, there are eight public charter schools in the state of Iowa.

The eSEAL was formed with the unique focus to broaden choice for all students in the Sigourney Community School District in grades 7-12, including the district's alternative school students, to realize opportunities to be entrepreneurs, to select postsecondary options, and to expand opportunities in career fields. A long-range goal for the community is to stop the "brain drain" from the local area and to demonstrate that students can have a productive, successful life owning a personal business, locally, or within the state of Iowa.

eSEAL provides choice for students in grades 7-12 to grow entrepreneurial skills through the application of classroom knowledge to the actual experience of owning a personal business. A strong relationship with Indian Hills Community College allows students, through a flexible 4+1 schedule, to enroll in postsecondary classes leading to a variety of careers.
